BuenaVista Windows products are tested in accordance with processes and procedures established by NFRC and AAMA. The NFRC and AAMA tests measure the performance of a sample Product in a laboratory environment. BuenaVista Windows manufactures the Product using the materials and methods used in the fabrication of the tested Product. Product components and manufacturing processes have an inherent range of tolerances and many external factors can affect product performance, including but not limited to installation, abuse, lack of maintenance, and building movement. For this reason, BuenaVista Windows does not warrant the test results.

Where field testing of product occurs by purchaser, or agent of purchaser, together defined as “purchaser;” purchaser must provide BuenaVista Windows prior notice and allow BuenaVista Windows to participate in identifying appropriate test methods as well as observe Product testing. Without prior notice and ability to participate in developing testing methodology and observe tests of Product, BuenaVista Windows shall not be required to address testing results nor shall it be required to share the cost of testing.

BuenaVista Windows reserves the right to discontinue or modify its products. Substitute product or parts may not be a match to the original product.

BuenaVista Windows shall not be liable for consequential or incidental damages, personal injury, lost profits, loss of use, diminution in value, or punitive damages. In no event shall BuenaVista Window’s liability exceed the price of the covered product.
